PUBLIC TOURS IN JANUARY HIGHLIGHTED BY A GALLERY TALK FOCUSING ON VISUAL PERCEPTION AND THE WORK OF JASPER JOHNS

Gallery tours at the Walker Art Center in January feature the exhibitions Past Things and Present: Jasper Johns since 1983, The Last Picture Show: Artists Using Photography, 1960-1982, Pop³: Oldenburg, Rosenquist, Warhol, and Selections from the Permanent Collection. Visitors can also take in a Gallery Talk examining visual perception in the work of artist Jasper Johns on Thursday, January 15, led by psychoanalyst Judith Vida and exhibition curator Joan Rothfuss. Thursday gallery tours are free; Saturday and Sunday gallery tours are free with gallery admission. All tours meet in the lobby. For more information about educational programs for all ages, call 612.375.7610 or visit learn.walkerart.org.

Gallery admission is $6 adults; $4 young adults 12–18, students with I.D., seniors, groups of 10 or more. Free to Walker members and children under 12. Free to all every Thursday and the first Saturday of each month. Free Thursdays are made possible by generous support from The Wallace Foundation. Free First Saturdays are made possible by Coldwell Banker Burnet.

Gallery Talk: What Do You See? Visual Perception and Jasper Johns, 6:30 pm

Meet in the lobby

Much of Jasper Johns' work revolves around notions of perception and "seeing." As an artist he is curious about how we see what we see, and why we see it that way—as a result of our own biology, psychology, and memory. This talk, led by psychoanalyst Judith Vida and exhibition curator Joan Rothfuss, focuses on the psychological aspects of seeing and the ways that the artist approaches these questions.
